Stop your child with a learning difference from being “pushed through” or “blown off”!!

Moving Forward’s Parent Empowerment Network helps parents learn how to ask questions and make suggestions that schools better understand. The class will review the special education process in the state of PA, the 504 process and the IEP process. If you have an IEP or 504 that is not working, bring it to class, and we will discuss ways to improve it. Struggling to get a 504 or IEP, our Parent Support Specialists have “been there and done that” and have some advice for you.

ABOUT BARBARA SHAFRAN, M.Ed.

Barbara Shafran, M.Ed. received her Master’s degree in foreign language education in 1994 from the University of Pittsburgh. She has taught elementary school through college-aged students for 25 years in a variety of subjects including: Spanish, Psychology, English, Microsoft Applications and Business Management. While attending graduate school, Mrs. Shafran worked at Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic’s Neuropsychiatric Assessment and Rehabilitation Services clinic (now closed), and she also took extensive coursework in educational testing and measurement. This background, combined with the experience of helping her own children to receive appropriate accommodations from a school district, resulted in the creation of the Parent Empowerment Network program (PEN).
